The generous reception given the first issue of the Morning News is highly appreciated not only by the editor, but the employees as well. Compliments were handed us in bunches, not only personally, but in every way, some even taking the trouble to call over the phone to extend congratulations. That the compliments were not all hot air, was proven by the fact that a number were accompanied by the necessary "dinero" to place the names on the subscription lists, some for a week, some a month and some a year. If the list of bona fide subscribers keeps up the pace set the first day, before the end of the week, application will have been made for transmission through the mails as second class matter, which will facilitate the mailing of the paper to subscribers out of town.

Speaking of Prohibition

What do you suppose would be done to a man in Luna county were he caught surreptitiously planting loco-weed around in our horse pastures? Ask any cowman what would be done to him. There is probably no law against planting loco-weed, but there is an unwritten law in the sentiment of any western community against it and woe to the man caught in this nefarious activity. But what if a man should be caught mixing loco with bran and chops and oats and dopping it out to horses wherever he found them. He would last even in this peace-loving community about as long as the proverbial snowball in you know where.

If the loco business should, by any unforeseen set of causes, attain any magnitude, you would find, we surmise, a set of cranks endeavoring to get prohibitory measures placed upon our statute books. You would find the people who were profiting by the sale of loco, maintaining that their business put money into circulation, gave employment to people, furnished occupants for vacant business buildings, payed taxes to support the schools, etc., etc.--Deming Headlight.

The Laggard's Limit.

She—"But why is it that you get engaged so often, Mr. Jones?" He—"Because I haven't the courage to marry."
